Thank you for your interest in the Idaho Chapter of the American Fisheries Society's Susan B. Martin Scholarship. This document contains information about this scholarship including application instructions.

Overview: The Martin family and the Idaho Chapter of the American Fisheries Society established the Susan B. Martin Scholarship in 2008 with the intention of continuing Susan's legacy of fostering the development of fish and aquatic professionals. The purpose of the scholarship is to assist graduate students with college education costs whose professional goals support the mission of the American Fisheries Society (see mission statement above).

Scholarship Amount: $2000

Eligibility: The scholarship is open to students who:

1. Are enrolled as a graduate student at any Idaho college or university on January 31 of the year that the scholarship is awarded or are active in the Idaho Chapter of the American Fisheries Society
2. Have professional goals that support the mission of the American Fisheries Society

Selection Criteria (not in order of relevance):

1. Professional goals
2. Course work completed
3. GPA
4. Idaho Chapter involvement
5. Experiences that enhance the student as a professional
6. Demonstrated examples of mentoring and inspiring the growth and development of fish and aquatic scientists
7. Letter of recommendation from a biology professor, faculty advisor, school administrator, or supervisor

Application Process:

1. Download and complete the application form and obtain a copy of your college transcripts (unofficial transcripts are acceptable). Application forms are available at the scholarship website (see below).
2. Email your completed application form and your transcripts to Lauri Monnot at scholarships@idahoafs.org.
3. Identify a biology professor, faculty advisor, school administrator, or supervisor who will write your letter of recommendation. The letter of recommendation must be on the letter of recommendation form which is available at scholarship website (see below). You can download the form and email it to the person preparing the letter of recommendation or you can direct them to the website where they can download it themselves. The person preparing the letter of recommendation should email it directly to Lauri Monnot at scholarships@idahoafs.org. Letters of recommendation that are emailed from the applicant or that are not on the letter of recommendation form will not be accepted.
