

Dear Idaho -American Fisheries Society,

IdahoSTARS offers child care referrals to families seeking care, referrals are not recommendations, and include licensed and exempt child care programs. We urge families to call child care programs, schedule an appointment, and carefully interview, evaluate, and check references before leaving your child in care. IdahoSTARS, the University of Idaho, Idaho Association for the Education of Young Children, and the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare do not recommend or endorse any particular child care facility.

When you visit a childcare program remember these three things:

- LOOK –take the time to look over the facility, both inside and outside
- CHECK –to be sure that the practices important to you, such as education, health, and safety are used in the child care program
- ASK –question the childcare provider, teachers, and/or director as well as other parents; don't be afraid to ask the program for references

Health and Safety information about each facility can be found at Idaho Child Care Check.

<https://www.idahochildcarecheck.org/>

Family Resources are provided on our website, where you can search for child care, find health information, and more. <https://idahostars.org/Families>

Steps to Quality is a Childcare Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS) that provides important information to families. All programs participating in Steps to Quality are actively working with IdahoSTARS staff to improve their program's ability to provide quality child care. For more information visit <https://idahostars.org/Parents/Choosing-Quality-Child-Care/STQ-Regions>.

Children with diverse abilities and needs have unique and important care requirements. It is important for families and providers to communicate about the unique needs of a child to ensure the best care possible. IdahoSTARS supports the right of every child and their family to participate in a broad range of activities and settings. For more information visit

<https://idahostars.org/Parents/Inclusive-Child-Care>.

If you have questions about your child's development, please see our developmental screening check list at https://idahostars.org/portals/61/Docs/Parents/DevScreen_Brochure_Parents.pdf or visit <http://www.cdc.gov/ncbddd/actearly>.

If you have questions or would like additional assistance in finding child care, feel free to call our 2-1-1 Idaho CareLine or 800-926-2588; we are here to help.

Sincerely,

Your IdahoSTARS Team

IdahoSTARS offers child care referrals to families seeking care, referrals are not recommendations, and include licensed and exempt child care programs. We urge families to call child care programs, schedule an appointment, and carefully interview, evaluate, and check references before leaving your child in care.

IdahoSTARS, the University of Idaho, Idaho Association for the Education of Young Children, and the Idaho Department of Health and Welfare do not recommend or endorse any particular child care facility.
